Gentlemen:

I have just finished watching "Misunderstanding China." As one who has spent 5 of the last 8 years in other cultures (Nepal, New Guinea, and rural Hawaii), I found it immensely refreshing to see the kind of cultural self-awareness demonstrated in your program. I must say I have shuddered to hear the talk of technological assistance for China coming from us. We are simply substituting technology for Christianity. Let it be hoped our success will be on a similar scale as with Christianity.

Anyway, congratulations on your very good program. It was your consciousness, I think, that most impressed me. I hope the future will not be reflected in the words of the sponsor's announcer: "Misunderstanding China will be continued."

Sincerely yours,

L.A. Daloz

Dear Mr. Kuralt —

The program you narrated this afternoon, "Misunderstanding China," was Terrific! Congratulations to everyone who had a hand in putting that program together. It made me feel that at last broadcast journalism, network TV, and my country are coming of age — to maturity.

Yours sincerely,

Elizabeth N. Munger

Mr Kuralt

I just finished watching your program Misunderstanding China and I wish to thank you. I too was brought up on the Charlie Chan & Fu Manchu image, but every one and realize know better now. Heck I always thought when I was growing up every chinese laundrymen I met ran an opium den in the back room. Your program I hope will enlighten people more on China & the Chinese. It should be seen in every school, town, & hamlet in the United States as a first class documentary on China. I hope in the future to see more of these excellent stories on China especially narrated by an excellent reporter you Thank you again

God Bless & Keep you

Dear Mr. Kennedy,

Tonight my son and I watched your hour-long documentary on China. Many Books! At 41, I'm old enough to "know" the facts, but never before have I had them put together. My 14-year old son would have had little interest in doing the reading necessary to get even the facts, let alone "the big picture."

I congratulate you on a wonderfully thought-provoking show.

Sincerely,

Vicky Dougherty
